The Punishment Of My Easter Holiday, Amen

"My son, I Am not in the idolatry of My people. The holiday of Easter is coming up, My son. They use it to celebrate My Resurrection, and for that I Am glad. However, they have incorporated their pagan beliefs from ancient times in the holiday of Ishtar, My son. What have I to do with eggs, which they color in their homes and kitchens, and with bunny rabbits and chicks of all kinds? I Am not in it; it is another pagan holiday which they use to celebrate Me, My son. Away with My people unto eternal wrath! For they will not cease from their pagan beliefs from all generations. Away unto eternal Hell, useless people of vice and sin, incorporating their pagan beliefs from all ages into My holiday! They will not repent, being stubborn with their wicked ways which they call 'traditions.' Away, useless people of sin and vice into My eternal Hell, made for the devil and his angels, cursed for all eternity! Away, wicked people! Your LORD has spoken, amen."
